S M Subbaiah Naidu

- Born in Kadayanallur, Tenkasi District on March 15, 1914
- He did not undergo formal education but cultivated interests in stage acting and music. He worked for drama troupes including the one owned by Nawab Rajamanickam Pillai. Learnt music from Subramania Bhagavathar. Bhakta Ramadas play and the movie (1935) of Nawab Rajamanickam gave him a chance to compose music.
- He was an assistant to the musical Trinity of early Tamil cinema namely G.Ramanathan, S.V.Venkatraman and C.R.Subbaraman.
- In 1947 he came into contact with MGR in the movie Rajakumari. They became life long friends. SMS composed music for many of MGR films including Malaikallan and Nadodi Mannan.
- SMS became popular among cine goers through movies such as Ezhaipadum Paadu, Maragatham, Thirumanam, and the legendary Konjum Salangai.
- In Konjum Salangai, SMS was admired for using voice with Nadaswaram
- Kannadasan wrote his first song Kalangathiru Maname in Kanniyin Kathali for which SMS was the assistant music director to C R Subbaraman.
- SMS introduced T M Soundararajan as a play back singer in his movie Krishna Vijayam in 1946 but released in 1950.
- MS Viswanathan worked as an assistant to SMS in his early days and SMS recommended him as a capable music director to many film studios.
- SMS was known as “Sangeethayya” in the South Indian Music World.
- He died on May 26, 1979 (Ref: Wikipedia)
