V Kumar

28 July 1934 – 7 January 1996

Varadharajulu Kumaresan

- Kumaresan was born in Chennai on 28th July, 1934
- He developed interest in music when his sister was learning classical music from a teacher at home.
- He got a B.A degree from Loyola College, Chennai
- When he was working for Telephones department, he became a music director for plays staged in Madras.
- K Balachander hired him as a music director for his film Neerkumizhi in 1965. The songs were well received. Later Balachander retained him in many of his movies.
- M S Viswanathan and Ramamoorthy duo became very famous for light music in 1960's. It was difficult for other music directors to compete with them. Then they split but MSV dominated the music field in cinema. During this period, K Balachander dropped Kumar and switched to MSV.
- Kumar got offers from other directors such as Mukta Srinivasan.
- After few years, the tsunami wave of M S Viswanthan drowned him completely and Kumar didn't get many chances.
- Kumar married Swarna, a Telugu singer.
- Kumar was well known for songs such as Aadi adangum vaazkaiyada, aduthathu ambujathai kettele, punnagai mannan, kaathoduthaan naan paaduven and many others.
- He was active from 1965- 1987 and composed music for 150 films.
- He died on 7th January, 1996
- He was given Kalaimammani award by Tamilnadu Government and Melody King title by MGR.
